

IOM DEVELOPMENT FUND

Developing Capacities in Migration Management

Since 2001, the IOM Development Fund has served as a unique global resource for eligible Member States with developing economies and has helped offer rapid and flexible responses to important migration challenges.

Joint government-IOM Development Fund initiatives have successfully addressed the needs of Member States in various areas of migration management by providing 'seed funding' for innovative projects.

The IOM Development Fund was established in 2001 with an initial allocation of USD 1.4 million. By 2012 this figure grew to USD 8 million thanks to the support of Member States and successful project outcomes. It is hoped the Fund will reach a USD 10 million target.

Areas of focus include:

- Counter-trafficking
- Enhancement of inter-governmental dialogue and cooperation
- Labour migration
- Migration and development
- Migration health
- Migration management systems, including travel documents, data systems, and border improvements
- Policy and legal framework development
- Research and assessment
- Training activities

"The IOM Development Fund remains one of Africa's cornerstones in its cooperation and collaboration with IOM. We thank IOM for making this Fund available, as well as Member States that have made voluntary contributions to the Fund."

– Z. Ighil, First Secretary, Permanent Mission of Algeria in Geneva.

Step 3

- ✓ If your project idea is considered viable by the Fund management, you can begin putting together a project proposal.

Contributing to the IOM Development Fund

Recently, significant growth in IOM membership has resulted in a remarkable increase in demand for assistance in developing migration management capacities by eligible Member States. The number of requests for worthwhile initiatives does not cease to increase, the Fund is therefore seeking continuous support from IOM's generous donors.

The vast majority of funding received goes to project implementation, while programme management and administration for the Fund accounts for less than 5% of expenditure.

How to contribute
